Stay on Santa's Nice List

Increased Patrols and DUI Enforcement through New Year's Eve

As the holidays are approaching, the Flagler County Sheriff's Office (FCSO) is focusing on enforcement, education, and awareness within Flagler County to deter impaired driving, crashes, speeding, aggressive driving, and crimes of opportunity.

In addition to responding to calls for service, the FCSO patrol, motor, bicycle, and DUI units will have increased countywide presence for the remainder of 2018. The Motor Unit will have traffic enforcement operations at high crash locations to deter speeding and running of red lights. Some "special holiday visitors" will be assisting the Motor Unit this holiday season to ensure the roads of Flagler County are safe to travel on.

Drive safe! Don't let the Grinch steal your Christmas money!

Patrol deputies and the Bike Unit will be monitoring high traffic areas as well as businesses with the goal of reducing and preventing holiday crimes of opportunity. Deputies will remind citizens to lock their car doors and hide valuables, be aware of their surroundings and stay alert, and never leave a purse, wallet, or cell phone unattended inside a vehicle or shopping cart. Only park in disabled spaces if you are handicapped. Spaces are limited and the parking lots are crowded this time of year. Plus, it's against the law.

DUI Units will be enforcing sober driving every weekend through the remainder of 2018. Message boards will also be displayed throughout the county with the message "Drive Sober or Get Pulled Over" and the Sheriff's Taxi Patrol car will be visible in various locations.

"We'd like to wish all of our residents and visitors a very happy holiday season, with safety as our number 1 priority," Sheriff Rick Staly said. "If you plan to drink, don't plan to drive. There are many other ways to get home safely. Our patrol deputies will be actively looking for and arresting impaired drivers. Driving impaired is dangerous and comes with serious consequences. Driving drunk or high gets you a DUI."
