FCSO Seeking Fugitive Wanted for Written Threats to Kill

The Flagler County Sheriff's Office (FCSO) received a 9-1-1 call at 12:15pm from Advent Health Palm Coast after an employee of the hospital received a Facebook message from a domestic partner threatening to shoot her and shoot-up the hospital. The hospital was placed on lockdown while deputies sought the male who wrote the threat. The investigation revealed that the male that sent the message was Kelsey Anderson (DOB 12/6/1983). There is no indication that he was ever at the hospital although he indicated he was there waiting to kill her.

FCSO Deputies searched for the subject throughout Flagler County and issued a "BOLO" (Be-on-the-Lookout) notice to surrounding counties. The lockdown was lifted at the hospital, however there will continue to be an increased law enforcement presence there until the suspect is located and arrested.

A warrant was signed for Anderson for the charge of Written Threats to Kill, a second degree felony. He is a 35 year old white male, 6’1, 175 lbs who resides in Bunnell. He is believed to be driving a silver Nissan Titan with lime green spray paint on the tailgate.

“We’re asking the community that if you know where this guy is, call us and let us pick him up,” Sheriff Rick Staly said. “He has cost the taxpayers a lot of money and we will be seeking reimbursement through the courts. We have extra deputies on the roadways and at the hospital to ensure the safety of the public but the sooner this guy is in custody the better. I suggest he turn himself in before he faces additional charges, as we will get him.”

Anderson has a prior arrest history in Flagler County for various Grand Theft, Burglary, and Dealing in Stolen Property charges.

Anyone with information on the location of this fugitive should call FCSO at 386-313-4911 for Case Number 2019-95320 or email TIPS@flaglersheriff.com. To remain anonymous, call Crime Stoppers at 1-888-277-TIPS (8477). You could be eligible for a reward up to $5,000.00.
